

Grow your future in tech with ASM

We're ASM

Since 1968, our technology has become an essential part of your everyday life. From the phone in your hand to the electric cars on the road, medical devices and much more. It's the force behind almost everything you've grown to love and rely on every day.

Our core technology

So, what exactly does our technology do? It enables the production of chips. We design, manufacture, sell, and service tools for our customers to produce semiconductor devices, with a strong focus on advanced deposition technologies.

A community of innovators

But we're more than just a tech company. Our dynamic teams thrive on diverse perspectives, collaborating globally to redefine the limits of physics. And here's what's exciting: you can be part of this too!
